Physics Athletes

Contact: Mrs. Napolitano
E-Mail: tnapolitano@lauraltonhall.org
When: Fourth Tuesday
Where: S 315

The Physics Athletes club or Physathletes club would combine all the fun of physics and sports. During the club meetings we would pick a sport for that meeting then go over the physics behind the different parts of the sports. After the physics behind the sport of the decided meeting is reviewed students would then participate in application of physics to the specific skills of that sport. An example of a club meeting would be going over the torque behind passing and shooting in lacrosse, then getting together and playing a quick game. Lauralton Hall could benefit from this club because not only would it engage students in physics but it would also get students who are not necessarily on a sports team into sports. For those students who do play sports however this would be a great opportunity to enhance their skills by knowing the physics behind the moves they make.

Often times in high school athletes are friends with other athletes, which subsequently leads to less students coming to sport games since they have their own sports. By having an environment to allow for the blending of athletes and non-athletes, better friendships will be fostered within the student body. This will lead to an increase in both school spirit and student participation in extracurricular activities.

They are charged commissions and interest exactly as if they were trading in the real market. At the end of the year, the team whose stocks are worth the most money is declared the winner.
